Projects

WEATHER APP :

I built a Django weather app with Python, providing accurate forecasts. Utilizing Django's robust framework and Python's versatility, users access up-to-date weather data for informed decisions.

LIBRARY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM :

I engineered a Library Management System employing Django and Python for backend functionalities, coupled with CSS and HTML for frontend design. This system enables seamless management of books, allowing users to effortlessly add, remove, and update book details, enhancing efficiency in library operations .

BLOG PROJECT :

I created a Django-powered Blog project, leveraging Python for backend operations and Jinja2 for frontend rendering. Using object-oriented programming, users can seamlessly manage blog content, including creating, editing, and publishing posts
